Glossary…..33
By nature, the world operates as a monarchy. We use expressions such as ‘animal kingdom’ and ‘plant kingdom, yet centuries ago, moved away from the notion of human or earth kingdoms. That move was facilitated by the Cestui Que Vie Act of 1666 which substituted natural rights for a legal fiction to hold our rights in trust. This legal fiction is known as the corporation. Corporations allow individuals to avoid personal responsibility because all liability falls legally to the corporate fiction. This leaves no one in charge and the buck stops….nowhere.

Needless to say, this set-up didn’t work very well. The ‘ship of state’ was found defective and without a rudder. The earth kingdom had lost its monarch and the world floated adrift with no one at the helm. Corporate governments don’t work. With no common understanding, there is no covenant. The people were never party to their corporate constitutions.

On August 7, 2016, the world was declared a monarchy again through the Court of Ages Declaration of Sovereignty. I took the helm as its primary monarch.

On November 13, 2016, the Heirship Treasury was established.

On December 2, 2016, the Heirship Treasury Seal and Bond Note were affirmed.

On December 12, 2016, the Heirship Trust was established and affirmed.

These declarations and affirmations form the basis of the Heirship Economy.

The Heirship Trust includes all assets in existence, and I, as creator and sole owner of the Trust, am responsible for its care and for the execution of the Heirship Economy; therefore,

BE IT KNOWN that all Trusts, including but not limited to World Trusts, International Trusts, and Universal Trusts are now subsumed under the Heirship Trust. The terms for participating in the Trust are found in the COURT OF AGES Law of the Land Handbook. Herein you will find a contract called Letters of Agreement. Your signed agreement, along with your actions in alignment with the Law of the Land, becomes our covenant. Participation in the Heirship Economy is based on this understanding and agreement.

Affirmed this April 5, 2018.
DECLARATION AND DECREE

WHERE AT ONE TIME, democratic governing processes were viewed as supporting freedom, they have functioned as the opposite. Corporate governments, admiralty courts and fraudulent banking practices have colluded to create an out-of-control, dictatorial power structure over which the people have no control, all facilitated by what has been called Common Law.

COMMON LAW CONCEPTS have repeatedly been re-packaged and presented as a form of natural law—to the point where most Natural Law writings are simply fiction and accurate descriptions buried beneath mounds of pedantic philosophical writings. Concepts such as "natural rights" and "natural justice" have been deduced from the works of Aristotle, Thomas Aquinas, Emerick de Vattel and John Locke and conflated with Natural Law. In fact, most law professionals do not differentiate between natural law philosophy, Common Law and Natural Law.

AS NATURAL EXTENSIONS of the First Source of Life Essence whom some call God, humans are responsible for the world we have inherited; therefore, we now move to structure our lives together in ways that honor the interdependence and regenerative nature of all living systems.

WE THE PEOPLE, who hold superiority over any and all social administration or governing services, do now declare that the Maxims of Love and Statements of Responsibility and Statements of Clarification, which describe what is required for the sustainment of human life on Earth, stand as the foundation for individual self-governance and that Natural Law, the practice of maintaining wholeness among all living systems, is now the Law of the Land.

Natural Law, the practice of maintaining wholeness among all living systems is now the Law of the Land.

I affirm this declaration and decree.

REIGN OF EARTH
Statement Regarding Standard Pitch

Earth currently vibrates at a constant harmonic intonation of 432 Hz as determined by my subjective ear; therefore, standard pitch is 432 Hz.

Maxims of Love

• All living systems are free.
• All living systems are protected.
• All living systems unable or unwilling to live and act in accordance with the maxims of love correct their behavior or accept the consequences.
• Where the maxims of love are violated, pardon is offered upon correction.

Statements of Responsibility

Statement 1

Freedom and the right to self-determination is natural and lawful, inherent in all living systems, and does not regard any state of mind, condition, or national identification; as such, we form Statements of Responsibility around these principles:

1. All living systems are free.
2. The value of living systems is unlimited.
3. Each living system is equal in value to all other living systems.
4. All living systems who violate these principles are pardoned upon correction.
5. The human community intervenes in all situations where these principles are violated regardless of local customs, ethics, or practices.

Statement 2

Humans are eternal in nature and in and of themselves, ecosystems. Since every element that exists is living, interconnected, and interactive, ecosystems are defined as communities of elements nested in larger ones, to the universal level and beyond. Every element is vital to the structures supporting it.

Statement 3

Each inhabitant may, by free-will choice, join with one or more others to form a couple, family, band, tribe, confederation of tribes, or nation; each nested within a larger community.
Statement 4

Each human is, by free will, a sovereign nation and self-governing. Inhabitants join with others, by free will choice, to form governing frameworks for human communities that align with collective and individual customs.

Human communities develop ethics, customs, and practices consistent with the rights and protections of all living systems in recognition and respect for diversity of values, knowledge, skill, practices, and standards of all world cultures in alignment with natural law.

Statement 5

Mother Earth is an indivisible part of all living systems, inclusive of human communities, interrelated, interdependent, and complementary, all sharing a common destiny. Where human communities interact with other aspects of nature, the integrity and natural processes that sustain regeneration is preserved.

Mother Earth, the waters, skies, air, airwaves, minerals, forests, beaches, mountains, wildlife, and all other natural resources, human and otherwise, in, above, and below the earth are expressly protected as living systems. Natural resources are utilized in sustainable ways and may not be commercialized, commodified, nor privately “owned,” inhabitants being guardians and custodians of such. All activities such as building, farming, harvesting, and producing are done in a way that preserves nature’s dynamic balance and life-cycles, assuring regeneration and future integrity.

Statement 6

By natural law, which deems Mother Earth and all living systems, human or otherwise, to be title holders of inherent rights, interrelated, interdependent and complementary, we declare Mother Earth to have a lawful personality able, through her human representatives, to bring action to defend her rights.

For the protection of her rights, Mother Earth takes on the character of the collective. She and all her expressions, including human communities, possess all the inherent rights recognized in these Statements; and the rights expressed herein do not preclude the existence of other rights.

As part of the community that makes up Mother Earth, all inhabitants exercise rights in a form compatible with both individual and collective rights. The exercise of individual rights is limited by the exercise of collective rights in the living systems of Mother Earth, and any conflict between these rights are resolved in a manner that preserves the functionality of living systems.
Statement 7

Communities, once regulated according to physical geographic boundaries arranged as cities, counties and states, now form and regulate themselves according to free-will choice. Customs, practices, and constitutions are developed by inhabitants in harmony with the symbiotic relationship of all life systems and in alignment with natural law.

Communities may be stationary or migratory, occupying and utilizing natural resources as custodians and guardians of the land.

Statement 8

The land, being equal in value to all other living systems, once regarded as real estate, property or possession, is now free. Each human inhabitant is declared a lawful guardian and protector of Mother Earth.

Statement 9

Inhabitants freely enjoy activities of exchange, business and travel, unhindered and unrestricted, as done in a form that maintains the capacity and conditions for regeneration and the balance of all living systems and ecosystems.

Existing infrastructure remains as long as it is maintained and utilized in harmony with regenerative cycles of surrounding life systems. Individuals, groups, or communities sharing an interest in roads, pipelines, railways, etc. possess guardianship of them and are responsible for their care and operations.

Statement 10

Decisions regarding personal health care, wellness, education and safety are the free-will choice of each inhabitant.

Statement 11

Free movement through and across land, water, air and space is a natural function of life and remains unrestricted, uninhibited and unlimited. Modes of transportation safeguard the integrity and regenerative cycles of Mother Earth.

Statement 12

Inhabitants and communities freely form alliances and enter into written or oral contracts and agreements consistent with the common good and within the framework of the balance and rights of Mother Earth and all living systems.
Statement 13

The human community intervenes where violations of rights occur. Protection coalitions, consisting of one or more inhabitants, assist in ensuring rights and protections guaranteed in these Statements.

Statement 14

Representational value systems (money) have traditionally been used to measure an amount or level of human energy invested in a product or service. These systems are unnecessary, cumbersome, and create fictitious hierarchies; therefore, all money systems dissolve as human consciousness, understanding of our symbiotic relationship with the earth, and access to alternative technologies provide.

I affirm these statements. Misquoting, taking these statements out of context or manipulating their meaning, in part or in whole, with visuals, music or in any other form, violates Natural Law and is prohibited.

6. INTENTIONS ARE HIDDEN; BEHAVIOR IS OBSERVABLE.

7. INTENDING TO DO RIGHT FALLS SHORT OF ACTUALLY DOING RIGHT.

8. DO WHAT’S RIGHT for the sake of doing what’s right; not for the effect.

9. There is NO SUCH THING as ANXIETY. (Adrenalin provides bursts of energy when action is needed for the preservation of life and well-being. The demons used covert hypnotic techniques in marketing to instill a constant state of low-grade fear through advertising; then created pharmaceuticals and a fake diagnosis called “anxiety disorder” to alleviate that fear.) NOW BE BOLD!

10. What most call INTUITION is actually a projection of their own neuro-mapping.

16. JUDGEMENT is critical thinking and analysis, ESSENTIAL FOR DISCERNMENT. (The mantra, “Thou shalt not judge” is a psy-op to make people suspend reasoning and accept what is presented through media as fact—even when it makes no sense.)

17. I AM GLAD TO BE JUDGED. If I'm wrong, I want to know. If I'm right, I want others to know.

18. SOMEONE SAID: "Focus on what you love instead of bashing what you hate." Here is my response to that: I used to think this way too. It is common psychobabble created in the tombs of psychotherapy graduate school—where I did quite well. Now I understand this notion as a psy-op to make us STAND DOWN in the face of an EVIL SO INSIDIOUS that most do not comprehend how resolutely we must focus on its COMPLETE DEMISE.

19. IF SOMEONE HAS A NEED AND YOU HAVE THE ABILITY TO MEET IT WITHOUT CAUSING LOSS TO YOURSELF OR YOUR COMMUNITY, GIVE IT.

Arrest and Detainment Procedures

Individuals who present harm to humanity and show failure to correct may require arrest and detainment while awaiting due process (see “Lawful Cure” below).

Detainees are provided individual quarters to allow privacy for personal reflection and self-correction.

First twenty-four hours after arrest: Personnel with experience and expertise in forensic interviewing begin questioning to determine depth and level of knowledge or participation in the crimes of which they are accused. Detainees who are determined to have no knowledge or awareness of the crime(s) of which they are accused are immediately released and transported to their place of residence.

Those found to have participated in the willful coverup of or participation in the crimes of which they are accused are triaged and held in appropriately secured quarters away from any potential victims. NOTE: Holding people in cages, jails, violates Natural Law.

Those found to have participated unwillingly by coercion, force or manipulation are to be triaged for level of care and rehabilitation required.

Charges are determined within twenty-four hours after the conclusion of questioning for those found to have knowledge of or to have participated in the coverup of said crimes.

A prosecutor is called. The prosecutor role is that of a volunteer spokesperson who gathers information to present before a Natural Law grand jury and is appropriate in cases of crimes against humanity. “Prosecutor” is not a title, but a role taken by one who accepts a duty to continue with a course of action on behalf of the public. There is no person assigned to defend the accused; although the accused may acquire a defense advocate and assistance from others in gathering and presenting evidence.

A hearing is arranged as soon as possible. The hearing is done before a respected community member who volunteers to hear the case and is agreed upon by both the accused and accuser. If the case involves a violation of the public trust (accused is a public servant) then the hearing goes before a grand jury (a team of 16 or more persons who investigate and determine whether formal charges should be brought). If the judge or grand jury indicts, a trial is scheduled.

I approve these procedures.

Lawful Cure (Trial Guidelines)

1. Bring all charges publicly, in the open, transparently for all to see.

2. Make all procedures public, allow all evidence to appear publicly.

3. Allow accuser and accused to testify openly and in public.

4. Allow the accused offender to confess, repent (express regret), offer restitution and be forgiven if desired. Allow accuser to accept and offer forgiveness.

5. Allow rehabilitation for the offender if required.

6. If court procedures and jury deliberations continue, allow them to occur openly and publicly.

7. If charged, offer the accused a formal opportunity to confess, repent, offer restitution and be forgiven publicly.

8. If the offender refuses offers of restoration and/or repeats the offense, detainment and/or containment would be recommended.

I approve these procedures.

REIGN OF EARTH
Question: How would someone go about reporting a crime?

Answer: It depends on the situation. In most cases, a report would be filed with the community-appointed Sheriff who understands and aligns with Natural Law.

Q: Would the Sheriff catch the perpetrator and put them in jail?

A: No. The Sheriff would launch a published, open-source investigation to determine whether or not to issue an arrest warrant. If a warrant is issued, Arrest and Detainment procedures outlined in the Court of Ages “Law of the Land Handbook” would be followed.

Q: So the accused might be allowed to walk around free until the hearing?

A: Determinations regarding risk factors, etc. are made within 24 hours during which time the accused is secured in private quarters conducive to self-reflection. Since by Natural Law, all procedures are local, the hearing is scheduled immediately, preferably within 48 hours. Charges are brought transparently and investigated in open-source fashion, so all community members are encouraged to check the public community message boards daily for any such activity. That way the community can participate in assuring the safety of all involved.

Q: What if the person is determined to be at risk for harm to the community?

A: Natural Law requires that appropriate, secure facilities for individuals who pose a threat of harm be maintained. These may include FEMA facilities maintained by Continental Marshals.

Written language evolves much more slowly than oral language and interpretation requires a variety of particular understandings (such as context, nomenclature, etc.).
